

To Whom it May Concern:

Allow me to express that the BPL issue is a very real threat to HF spectrum users, and is capable of making useless enormous amounts of radio spectrum. I would suggest that there are many other ways the utility companies can control their power grid without endangering critical communications frequencies. Thank you for your consideration.